Yesterday's Election.

While it is generally conceded that yesterday's election was less animated than any held in Alexandria during recent years, a comparatively large vote was polled. As was apparent during the campaign, the democratic candidates had an easy walk-over. Notwithstanding all the hopes and presages of the republicans, they only succeeded in securing 24 more votes for Judge Lewis for Governor than President Roosevelt received in this city last year, which shows that their recent propaganda in Alexandria has been devoid of fruit.

There was no anxiety concerning the result in Alexandria nor in the State at large, but many persons naturally were interested in the outcome of the struggles in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other places, and after dark crowds gathered at points on King street where bulletins were thrown upon screens. The dispatches in the main, however, were unsatisfactory, as but little definite news could be obtained.

The streets were comparatively quiet and as the hour grew late the crowds became thinner, the bulk of the people preferring to wait until today to learn the result of the election in the different States.

The vote in Alexandria city and county was as follows:

River Notes.

The quartermaster's wharf at Fort Washington, Md., is reported to have been somewhat damaged Saturday last by one of the large river tugs colliding with it.

The steamer Northumberland of the Maryland, Virginia and Delaware Railway Company's fleet has been withdrawn from the route between this city, and Baltimore for some necessary repair work, and the big side-wheel steamer Westmoreland has taken her place on the route.

The hull for a new pile-driving machine is in process of construction at the old vulcanizing wharf at the foot of Wolfe street, it is stated, for Alexandria parties. The new machine will be about sixty-five feet long and will have a beam of about twenty-five feet, and is to be fitted with new and modern machinery for the building of wharves necessitating the use of extremely long piles.

The Damage Suit.

As stated in yesterday's Gazette, Howard C. Knode, of Alexandria, has filed suit in the United States Circuit Court in Richmond against Crandall Mackey, Commonwealth's Attorney, and Joseph S. Commey, a magistrate in Alexandria county, for $10,000 damages. The suit is the result of the arrest and conviction of Knode under the common law on a charge of vagrancy.

He is a telegraph operator and was one of the many arrested in the poolroom crusade made by Mackey when he raided John C. Nelson's poolroom in Jackson City. He was fined $1,000 and given six months on conviction for vagrancy. Knode was suspected of being a pool-room operator. In his suit he alleges that he was assaulted by the defendants, who, when they arrested him, "did maliciously and wantonly pull and squeeze him," etc. The hurt done to him bodily and to his business and prospects, he figures as "damifying" him to the tune of $10,000.

Mrs. Lucy B. Marshall died at her home at St. Elmo, Alexandria county, last night. She was the wife of Mr. John A. T. Marshall, and was 33 years old.

Coroner's Inquest.

Dr. Purvis, the Coroner, this morning held an inquest at Deming & Son's undertaking parlors over the remains of Richard Mills, colored, who was evidently shot in the northeastern part of the city last Saturday night and who died the next day in the home of a colored woman named Annie Brown.

Officers Beach, Garvey and Lyles testified to finding Mills Saturday night apparently in a drunken condition. Officer Lyles had previously heard a pistol shot and when Mills was found it was supposed that he had been injured by a pistol, but he emphatically denied that such was the case. The statements of the officers showed that a young colored woman named Sarah Gaskins was with Mills previous to the time he was found, but when she was examined she denied having seen the dead man and said she was with an acquaintance.

The evidence of Mr. Doherty, proprietor of a saloon in the neighborhood, was to the effect that the Gaskins woman was with Mills, and that he purchased a bottle of beer for her. It was also evident from the testimony that she left the saloon with him.

Dr. Smith described the result of the autopsy of the remains of Mills. He said it would have been impossible for a person who had received such a wound to have survived from Saturday night until late Sunday afternoon. In his opinion Mills died within two or three hours after having been shot; that it would have been possible for him to have lived six hours.

Several negroes were examined, but nothing definite could be obtained from them, although they were considerably mixed up in the cross-examination of the jury.

After the examination of a number of other witnesses the jury retired and returned a verdict to the effect that Mills came to his death by a pistol shot wound through the kidneys and intestines by parties unknown to the jury.

Hughes King and Sarah Haskins, both colored, who had been arrested after the three colored men were taken in custody on suspicion of being implicated in the shooting of Mills, were held by the police to await further developments. The trio arrested at first (Samuel Murray, Lazarus Allen and Wm. Frazier) were dismissed.

Killed by Train.

Mrs. Mattie M. Bly, of Winchester, was instantly killed by a westbound train on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad about 10:30 o'clock Monday night at Harper's Ferry, W. Va. She had left Winchester at 6 o'clock for the home of her son, John Slayton, at New Castle, Pa., where she expected to live in the future, and was waiting for the Pittsburgh express at Harper's Ferry, when the train came out of the tunnel. Several men shouted to the woman to get off the track, but she became bewildered and, it is said, walked up the track in the direction of the approaching train. Nearly every bone in her body was broken. Mrs. Bly was a native of Scottsville, Albemarle county, and lived at Lebanon Church before going to Winchester. Her first husband was John Slayton and her second Mace Bly, both of whom are dead. In addition to her son at New Castle she leaves two daughters, Miss Doshia Slayton, of Alexandria, and Mrs. Annie Miller, of New Castle.

Sometimes a flame that is saved by dynamite is a space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray, of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "I had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and cured her." Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and La Grippe. At E. S. Leachester & Sons' drug store, price 50c and 1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

The State school census for 1906 shows a falling off of 60,861 white and 50,951 colored pupils in the past five years, making a total falling off of 111,312. The cause of this great falling off is that under the new constitution the census only takes in those children between 7 and 20 years old. The old census took in children from 5 to 21 years. This causes a loss of about 18 per cent.

An unusual claim was presented to the Richmond City Council at the meeting held Monday night. Mrs. John Taylor asks the city to indemnify her for damage done to an expensive gown, which she says was ruined by a street sprinkler. The watering cart was close to the curb as Mrs. Taylor was passing and a sudden gush of water from the perforated pipes drenched and ruined Mrs. Taylor's dress. Randolph for $87,000. It has issued bonds to the amount of $407,000, of which the plaintiff holds $200,000 on which the interest has not been paid.

According to reports which are circulated in Lexington, the situation at the Virginia Military Institute is critical. It is reported that the third class presented a paper to Gen. Shipp, the superintendent, requesting that better food be served them, else they would withdraw from the school. It is alleged that the superintendent not only did not comply with their request, but gave them a certain time within which to withdraw the paper and apologize, else they would be compelled to take the consequences. The boys have not offered to withdraw the paper or apologize. The belief is that the class will be dismissed today. The board of visitors will meet at the institute tomorrow to discuss the situation.

Cave Discovered.

Mr. George A. Cook, who resides about two and a half miles south of town, has discovered a cave on his property, and a number have explored it as far as accessible. They have found one chamber which is about fifty feet square, and from this there are three openings leading to other chambers. It has not been possible to explore any farther. Some years ago a fortune teller told Mr. Cook that there was a large cave on his farm and also that there were large sums of money buried about the place. In one spot the sum of a million in gold was concealed. Although the seer was told Mr. Cook the spot, he has never had faith in the prediction to dig for the treasure. The discovery of the cavern, however, lends some color to the fortune teller's words.—(Winchester Star.)

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier, New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that they declared were entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. When taken in time it prevents pneumonia. This remedy is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.
